Times-Dispatch:
Replying to yours of November 25.
I favor a local option in preference to State option, but expect to vote for a bill, if introduced, submitting the question of State-wide prohibition to the vote of the people; the people have the right to vote on the question; but it should be propounded to them as an independent issue, free from the complications incident to the election for any office, or other measure. In this way only may be avoided the political trading so prevalent now, and a vote secured, based upon the unbiased conviction of the people. This imposing equestion ought not to be mixed in with other politics; let us have it straight.

When truck No. 21 arrived smoke was pouring from all the front windows of the building from the ground floor to the roof, in the duil glare as woman was seen to grope to a window on the fourth floor.

For a minute she fumbled with the sash, and then it went up and she leaned out, screaming wildly.

Before the truck had come to a stop a ladder was rearied against the wail. It failed to reach the woman, going only to the third story. Robert Nelson selzed a scaling ladder and went up, Hooking the gooseneck of the scaling ladder over the sill of the window where the wonan was, he continued his azeent and grasped the woman as she was on the point of jumping to the pavement.

TAFT WILL STAND BY CABELL

Belleved That Confirmation Was Held
Up By Virginia Republicans,
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., December 11.—
The Calell confirmation hold-up has caused considerable comment here to-day. Some believe that certain Virginia Republicans inspired the action of the Senate. Very few credit the story to the effect that Mr. Cabell had offended Congressman and lawyers who had business with his office. A rumor says that Cabell will be made First Assistant Postmaster-General, and that E. C. Duncan, of North Carolina, will get the commissioner's place. It has been impossible so far to ascertain the name of the Senator who objected to confirmation. President Taft, it is said, will stand by Cabell.

Acquire The Saving Habit.

When once formed, the inclination for useless and extravagant expenditures rapidly disappear, and the incentive to save is further quickened. Do not wait until you have a large amount to deposit, but begin, if need be, with One Dollar ($1.00); add to it with persistent regularity, and, together with the 3 per cent, compound interest we pay, it will create a competency to overcom the adversities, and misfortunes, incident to old age.
